$50.00 FOR 50 IDEAS.

Men's Interest in Our Project Increasing.

The deep earnestness, the sincerity of our purpose that has marked our endeavor to secure ideas for our homes, has won the indorsement and approbation of men who have discerned the importance, the magnitude of our enterprise.

Some of these men have willingly and obligingly worked out the details of their suggestions, which have varied in scope from the tamping of the cellar walls to the request for plain, softly tinted tiles around the open fireplace in the sitting-room.

Naturally a man likes to have a voice in so vitally an important subject as a home, and it is safe to assert that the majority of them have expressed a wish for simple, definite architecture, a type that would be the exemplification of dignity and character. Does not this show the trend of the public taste toward individuality of the style of home structure?

This individuality is to be strengthened in our new homes by the original suggestions of men who have decided opinions as to what comprises the style of a structure.

$1.00 For Each Idea We Can Use.

Send in ideas as requested, outside blinds being the next topic. Bring your ideas to the office if you desire.

Rapid progress is being made in the construction of the homes in which these ideas are to appear.

POSITIONS FOR HANSBROUGH.

Former North Dakota Senator Offered Two Berths.

Former Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, has been offered a position as a member of the Joint Monetary Commission of Congress, at $5,000 a year, or a place on the subcommittee to investigate expenditures created by the Appropriation Committee of the Senate, the salary of which also is $5,000. Mr. Hansbrough served for three months on the last-named committee. Then he was forced off through the opposition of Senator McCumber, his former colleague. Mr. Hansbrough charged his defeat for re-election to the quiet opposition of Senator McCumber.

Soon after Congress adjourned and Mr. Hansbrough took up his work on the special committee on expenditures, he commenced to attack Mr. McCumber in interviews and newspaper articles, published in the Northwest. Finally the Senator retaliated by demanding Hansbrough's retirement from the special committee. The attacks of Mr. Hansbrough continued until recently, when, with a view of harmonizing differences and bringing about the re-election of Mr. McCumber next year, the Senate leaders have urged Hansbrough to give up his newspaper campaign and accept the salary proffered.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA

Light Infantry Defers Proposed Warrenton Trip.

OBSERVANCE OF JULY 4 BEGUN

Ferry Steamer Lackawanna Dis-mantled and Will Be Sold for Junk—Nine Applicants for Two School Positions—New Lodge of Odd Fellows Is Installed.

Alexandria News Agency, 125 South Royal street, Alexandria, Va., authorized agents and carriers for The Washington Herald. The Herald will be delivered daily and Sunday to any address in Alexandria for 50 cents a month.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU.

Alexandria, Va., July 2.—At a meeting of the Alexandria Light Infantry held at Armory Hall to-night, the proposed marching trip to Warrenton, Va., which was to have been held to-morrow afternoon, was declared off. Members of the organization assert that this action was taken owing to the intense heat, and it is generally believed that owing to the extreme hot weather but few of the members of the company would have participated in the trip.

The premature celebration of the Fourth of July has already begun in this city, and will not be concluded until Monday night. Alexandria, in common with others throughout the country, will observe Monday for the Fourth. The police of this city will not stop the premature explosion of fireworks, but they will prohibit the use of the large cannon crackers and the dangerous cap pistol.

The work of dismantling the old ferry steamer Lackawanna has been about completed, the machinery and upper works having been removed. The hull will shortly be taken to the shipyard, where it will be destroyed for junk. The Lackawanna was damaged in a wreck with one of the Norfolk steamers during a fog last November.

The recently elected officers of Potomac Lodge, No. 33, L. O. O. F., were installed by the district deputy to-night at Odd Fellows' Hall, North Columbus street. The installation was witnessed by a large gathering of members of the order.

The city school board is in receipt of nine applications from persons desiring positions as teachers in the public schools of this city. At the present time two vacancies exist. The school board will in all probability fill the vacancies at a meeting to be held in August, or a called meeting may be held for that purpose.

It is expected that within a short time application will be made to the State Court of Appeals by Attorney Lewis H. Machen, for a writ of error in the case of Calvin Johnson, one of the three negroes recently convicted of the murder of Walter F. Schultz, the Chicago artist. In the event the higher court grants Johnson a new trial, attorneys representing Pines and Dorsey, also convicted of the same murder, will doubtless file similar applications.

DEBT HEARING COMPLETED.

Arguments Will Be Heard in New York in September.

Richmond, Va., July 2.—So far as Richmond is concerned, the debt-hearing case is ended. Special Master Littlefield left this morning for Washington. In order to rush proceedings the session was called to order at 9 o'clock this morning.

The adjustment of many accounts was the chief topic of discussion. The special master brought things together with master hand and urged the lawyers to use their best judgment in adding him to facilitate matters. This was carried out. The hearing is provided for in the argument will take place in the city of New York in September. In the office of Special Master Charles Littlefield.

DANIEL DECLARED NOMINEE.

Virginia Senator Now Candidate of Democracy for Re-election.

Richmond, Va., July 2.—Senator John W. Daniel, for the United States Senate; Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., superintendent of public instruction; Asher W. Harman, treasurer of the State, and David Q. Eggleston, secretary of the Commonwealth, were formally declared the nominees of the Democratic party by State Chairman Elyson, and their names will not appear on the ballot.

Elyson is vested with authority in the matter, and there was no opposition to either of them. He exercised his authority, and declared the men the nominees. This will obviate the printing of the names of the nominees on the ballot in the State primary August 1, and will greatly lessen the work of the officers.

BREAKS PETERSBURG JAIL.

Alleged Wife Murderer Escapes Through Hole in Floor.

Petersburg, Va., July 2.—Janus A. Williamson, alleged wife murderer and bigamist, escaped from the temporary jail in Canal street between 1 and 3 o'clock this morning, and all efforts to recapture him have proved futile.

The prisoner escaped through holes in the floor. A plank had been placed over the hole. Williamson was on the third floor of the five-story building. Tearing up the plank, he made his way to freedom. The windows on the second floor are not barred. Williamson soon got out on an adjoining roof, and was not long in reaching the ground and getting away under cover of darkness.

ELKS JOURNEY TO COAST.

Washington Representatives Off for Grand Lodge.

A delegation of Elks, members of Washington Lodge, No. 15, left yesterday for Los Angeles to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, to be held in that city July 12 to 17.

Joseph A. Burkart, delegate from the Washington lodge, will leave the city for the Grand Lodge meeting some time today. He will be accompanied by W. L. Sharp, James L. Ward, and others.

During the session of the Grand Lodge in Los Angeles the citizens of that thriving town will give a monster floral automobile parade, in which probably 2,000 big machines will be in line. The carnival feature of the California meeting will be the greatest thing of its kind ever attempted by the Elks.

Churches Will Celebrate July 4.

Frederick D. Owen, chairman of the committee on decorations of the Society of Patriotic Decorations and Civic Improvements, and holding a similar position in the observance of the safe and sane Independence Day, has requested ministers of the city to preach to-morrow on the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It is understood that the request will be complied with.

CORPORATION TAX WINS IN SENATE

Gore, Johnston, McEnery, McLaurin, Martin, Money, Newlands, Overman, Owen, Rayner, Shively, Stone, Taliaferro, and Taylor.

Republicans—Senators Borah, Bristow, Bulkeley, Clapp, Cummins, Dilliver, and La Follette.
The next vote would have been on the dummy amendment which had been offered by Senator Lodge to the Bailey-Cummins income tax proposition, but Senator Bailey made the suggestion that if Senator Lodge would withhold the dummy amendment Mr. Bailey would agree that Senator Aldrich should offer the corporation tax amendment as a substitute for the Bailey-Cummins income tax amendment.

Although the corporation tax provision had been adopted as an amendment to the dummy amendment, it was necessary in order to carry out the parliamentary procedure to have it voted on again in order to provide for its substitution for the income tax matter. Senator Lodge readily agreed to Senator Bailey's proposal, and Senator Aldrich offered the corporation tax amendment as a substitute.

Issue Fought Out.

This brought things down to a fair and square test of strength between an income tax and a corporation tax. The result was that the corporation tax was successful by the same vote as before, 45 to 31. All those who voted for the corporation tax were Republicans.

All the Democrats recorded and six Republicans voted against the substitution of the corporation tax for the income tax. The Republicans who thus seem to favor the income tax were Borah, Bristow, Bulkeley, Clapp, Cummins, and La Follette.

Senator Bulkeley explained, however, that he was opposed to both a corporation tax and an income tax.

Bacon in a Clash.

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, then called up an amendment to the corporation tax amendment, which provided for the exemption of educational, fraternal, and religious corporations from the imposition of the corporation tax.

A colloquy followed between Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Bacon. Mr. Aldrich said that this amendment and others which might be offered he would move to lay on the table, with the understanding, however, that they would all be given careful consideration by the Finance Committee, which would report on them to the Senate before the tariff bill had been disposed of in that body.

He expressed the opinion that the corporation tax amendment already provided for the exemption from the tax of educational, fraternal, and religious organizations, as well as the exemption of corporations organized for mutual benefit purposes.

Then Mr. Bacon took umbrage at a remark of Mr. Aldrich that he would "allow" Mr. Bacon to make a statement with regard to his amendment. It was apparent that to most of those who heard what Mr. Aldrich said that he did not use the word or intend to use it in an offensive sense, but Mr. Bacon seemed to misunderstand, and came back at Mr. Aldrich good and hard.

In a voice filled with indignation, he said that the Senator from Rhode Island could not "allow" him to do anything, and that the Senator from Rhode Island had believed for so long that he was the entire Senate that he forgot that other Senators had rights.

Mr. Aldrich looked surprised, but made no reply. There were cries of "Regular order" from Republican Senators, and the roll call was begun on Mr. Aldrich's motion to lay Mr. Bacon's amendment on the table.

Aldrich Carries Point.

Mr. Aldrich's motion prevailed by a vote of 42 to 32. All those who voted in the affirmative were Republicans.

The Republicans who voted in the negative were Borah, Brandegee, Bristow, Bulkeley, Clapp, Cummins, Dilliver, and La Follette.

Senators Brandegee and Bulkeley had heretofore followed the leadership of Senator Aldrich, but in this instance they contended that the corporation tax amendment should have provided specially for exempting mutual benefit insurance companies and similar concerns.

Another amendment offered by Senator Bacon was then brought forward at Mr. Bacon's instance. It provided that an excise tax of 2 per cent should be levied on the interest of corporation bonds. Carrying out his previous declaration, Mr. Aldrich moved to lay the amendment on the table, and was successful to the tune of 41 to 34. Those who voted against laying the motion on the table were:

Democrats—Bacon, Bailey, Bankhead, Chamberlain, Chalmers, Daniel, Davis, Fletcher, Foster, Frank, Gurnea, Harman, Johnston, McLaurin, Money, Newlands, Overman, Owen, Rayner, Shively, Stone, Taliaferro, and Taylor.
Republicans—Borah, Bristow, Bulkeley, Clapp, Cummins, Dilliver, Gamble, Jones, La Follette, and Pines.

Bacon Holds Aloof.

There was some discussion before the final vote was taken. The income tax proposition having been voted down in favor of the corporation tax, nearly all the Democratic Senators were willing to put themselves on record for the corporation tax with the question of the Bailey-Cummins amendment should be adopted without the income tax features and with the corporation tax proposition in place of them. In other words, the Senate had struck out everything in the Bailey-Cummins amendment, put the corporation tax provisions in place of those struck out, and then had to decide whether the corporation tax provisions should be adopted as the Bailey-Cummins amendment.

All this seems complicated, but after some little explanation Senators understood what it meant, and the vote was taken on the question of adopting the Bailey-Cummins amendment "as amended."

IRON STRIKERS SAY TIE-UP IS NOW COMPLETE.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 2.—With the strike order being observed, even to the last mill, officials of the Amalgamated Association of Steel, Iron, and Tin Workers declared to-day that they were well satisfied with the situation, and pointed out that the claims of the steel trust officials relative to any dissatisfaction in the ranks of the strikers were not well founded.

In reply to the statement made by President Pargury, of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, to the effect that 70 per cent of the company's plants and 40 per cent of the tin plate plants were operating, President McArdle, of the Amalgamated, said to-day:

"This is just the percentage of the company's capacity that has been non-operation for years past, so the trust evidently does not claim to be operating any of the plants affected by the strike order."

Laundry Contract Award Final.

At a session of the Commissioners, held yesterday, it was decided that the action awarding the contract for the District laundry work for the current year to the Yale Laundry Company, was final.

The matter would not be reopened, as asked for by the Empire Laundry Company, which claims their bid was $50 lower than the successful bidders. This decision ends the matter.
